Speaker Agreement

Event: WorldatWork 2019 Pay Equity Symposium

Date: March 27-29, 2019

Location: San Francisco Airport Marriott Waterfront, Burlingame, CA

By confirming acceptance to speak at the WorldatWork 2019 Pay Equity Symposium, you, the speaker, agree to the following terms and conditions. Read each statement below and sign at the end of this agreement.

- We give permission to WorldatWork to use our names, titles, companies and biographies to promote and produce this event.
- We agree to speak at the agreed upon date and time. Note: The schedule is subject to change, and WorldatWork will notify you if a change occurs.
- We agree that our session will reflect the session title and description and will be educational. Our session will not be used as a platform to sell and/or promote products and services either of our companies, any affiliated companies or any unrelated third parties. We agree not to use any lead-generating activities or services during our session. We will not distribute promotional materials in session rooms.
- We verify that our session content is original to us and does not infringe on any copyrights or other rights owned by others. If our session materials are copyrighted, we have received the necessary reprint permissions and will provide WorldatWork documentation upon request.
- We agree to provide WorldatWork our PowerPoint presentation prior to the event. We understand that a PDF version of our presentation will be posted on the event website. We reserve the right to exclude any proprietary information in our session materials that are distributed.
- We grant WorldatWork a nonexclusive right and license to reproduce and distribute our session materials as part of WorldatWork's production of the event. We will retain all ownership of the work, and our future use of the work won't be constrained in any manner.

In consideration for speaking at the WorldatWork 2019 Pay Equity Symposium and confirming acceptance of the speaker agreement, WorldatWork agrees to provide you the following:

- One complimentary full event registration. Each presenter will be automatically registered as a speaker.
- Reimbursement for up to two nights of lodging at the group rate in a designated event hotel if you're a practitioner, an academic or a nonprofit organization representative. (Consultants and service providers are not eligible for lodging reimbursement.)
